

Chief Samuel W. Beeler, Sr. Passes

The Southeastern Cherokee Council and the Cherokee Talking Leaves mourns the passing of a prominent citizen of the Native American community.

Chief Samuel W. Beeler Sr. passed away June 4, 2014. He was 94 years old. He was a full blood American Indian born in Buena, New Jersey. He was a charter member and a life member of the Coalition of Eastern Native Americans in Washington, D.C.

He was also a council member on the Council of Red Nations (CORN). Chief Beeler was a board member of the Taumanok on the Algonquin Poospatuck Indian Reservation of New York.

He married the daughter of a full blood, Sarah Holloway. Out of this union he had a sole son, Dr. Samuel W. Beeler Jr, who is the current chief of the tribe. The grandson, Samuel W. Beeler III is the Director of the state of New Jersey Indian office.

Chief Beeler will be sorely missed both on and ner the Brotherton Resevation in Indian Mills, New Jersey. All who reside on the Brotherton Reservation will mourn and have a traditional Delaware and Cherokee burial for Chief Beeler. # # #

Donations and Membership to SeCCI is down by more than half compared to the 2013 6 month financial report. Please help to continue Southeastern Cherokee Council by donating to our Tribe. If donations and membership do not increase, including more volunteers, it will not be able to survive. Please attend the yearly meetings at the National Tribal Grounds in Ochlocknee, Ga. to help keep us strong!
