Scholarship Funds For Worthy Student

The Cherokee People have historically been known for promoting education and good schools. The Southeastern Cherokee Council, for its part, also has, for a number of years, aided worthy young students further their education by means of providing scholarships. We would like to bring to the attention of our tribal members, that there are some funds available to a student or students who show promise of success in life but might need a little help in furthering their education.

Our SeCCI website page has a link called "Membership". By going to this link one may find the application form for this tribal sponsored scholarship. This form can be downloaded and printed out. If there is a worthy student among our membership that might benefit from such a scholarship, he or she is invited to fill out an application and send it in for consideration. Send the application to:
